

Application

Students from any country in Europe, or from other countries, are welcome to apply. For more details on the application, application forms and fees, please consult the specific university:

Università del Piemonte Orientale

www.emdas.it

Universidad Miguel Hernández de Elche

<http://emdass.edu.umh.es>

Aarhus University

www.crf.au.dk

Middlesex University

<http://www.mdx.ac.uk/courses/postgraduate/comparative-drug-and-alcohol-studies>

For further information please contact:

prof. Fabrizio Faggiano, Università del Piemonte Orientale email: fabrizio.faggiano@uniupo.it, dott.sa Franca Beccaria

email: franca.beccaria@gmail.com

European Masters in Drug and Alcohol Studies

A multi-disciplinary perspective to afford the clinical practice and research complexity

third edition 2017-2019

This Master is designed to stimulate reflection and debate on crucial topics in substance use and misuse from a multi-disciplinary, European and cross-national perspective. It is run jointly by four universities: Universidad Miguel Hernandez de Elche (Alicante, Spain), Aarhus University (Denmark), Middlesex University (London, UK) and Università del Piemonte Orientale (Novara, Italy). Students will have access to a group of European teachers and students and opportunities to study in partner universities or undertake placements in Europe.

The Master is meant to provide students with knowledge and skills useful to investigate and analyse the psychological, social and health implications arising from alcohol and drug consumption. It also provides the possible responses to problems and offers the tools they need to face clinical practice and prevention challenges.

Faculty

Fabrizio Faggiano - Università del Piemonte Orientale - Novara
Franca Beccaria - Università del Piemonte Orientale - Novara
Laura Amato - Cochrane Drugs & Alcohol Review Group - Rome
Bagga Bjerge - Aarhus University
Karen Duke - Middlesex University - London
Marica Ferri - European Monitoring Center for Drugs and Drug Abuse - Lisbon
Vibeke Asmussen Frank - Aarhus University
Rachel Herring - Middlesex University - London
Esben Houborg - Aarhus University
Geoffrey Hunt - Aarhus University
Sheila Jones - Aarhus University
Torsten Kolind - Aarhus University
Daniel Lloret - Universidad Miguel Hernández de Elche - Alicante
Pierpaolo Pani - Azienda Sanitaria Locale - Cagliari
Mads Uffe Pedersen - Aarhus University
Franco Prina - Università di Torino
Kristine Rømer - Aarhus University
Daniele Scarscelli - Università del Piemonte Orientale - Novara
Betsy Thom - Middlesex University - London
Sébastien Tutenges - Aarhus University

Programme of study and content

The Master program includes:

- 1) An introductory module, that will be held at the Universidad Miguel Hernandez de Elche in Alicante from 18 to 21 September 2017.
- 2) Four mandatory e-learning modules:
 - a. Substance use and addiction theories
 - b. Drug and alcohol policies in Europe
 - c. Evidence-based practice applied to prevention & treatment
 - d. Responses to the problem of drug abuse and addiction
- 3) Three e-learning modules to be chosen from the following:
 - a. Research methods for drug and alcohol
 - b. Drugs and crime in Europe
 - d. User perspectives in drug and alcohol treatment
 - e. Cultural and social aspects of drug and alcohol use
- 4) One intensive week organized by one of the partner universities
- 5) A not compulsory training in one of the partner university
- 6) The graduation ceremony at the EMCDDA in Lisbon.

